Frank Shreve arrived a short time ago from Broken Bow, and has started a delivery system here for the stores. This makes two systems here, the other being owned by Dwight Zediker. Mr. Shreve came here with the intention of purchasing Mr. Zediker's equipment and adding it to his own, but the deal has not yet materialized and both are now in operation. Mr. Shreve operated a system at Broken Bow before coming here, but business was rather quiet there and he decided this was the best place in this part of the state for him to locate.

A Ford car belonging to J. P. Barger was nearly demolished Sunday when it suffered a collision with an Apperson auto belonging to Rolla Wilson. The accident occurred near the Burlington viaduct east of town, and Barger claims he was trying to get out of the road when the collision came. The lamps and radiator on the Ford were smashed badly, and the axle was bent several inches. The injured car was towed to town immediately after the accident, and it is reported that the owner told the garage men to take the car, fix it, and then keep it for the charges. The Apperson suffered only minor damages.

What might have proven a serious incident occurred Wednesday morning while J. P. Barger was dynamiting stumps on his property. In blasting one small stump he presumably used an overdose of powder, and when it exploded, the stump described a parabola about fifty feet in the air, made several turns, and came down on Reuben Knight's house a short distance away. The occupants of the house were greatly startled, as can be imagined, and issued forth at once to find what was wrong. The only damage was the loosening of a few shingles, but had the stump been slightly larger, it would have gone through the roof and possibly caused a great loss.

Tuesday, while L. J. Schill's Overland auto was standing near the curb across the street from the court-house, a delivery team belonging to Frank Shreve ran away and ended their brief run at the rear end of Mr. Schill's car, where the buggy tongue passed through the rear end and into the cushions of the back seat. W. W. Norton's new Chalmers had been standing just back of the other car, and but a few minutes before the accident Mr. Norton rode down the street, and he considers himself very fortunate in taking the ride when he did, otherwise his car would have suffered. Of course, he did not wish Mr. Schill any bad luck, but—

A man who was identified as James R. Gordon was arrested Tuesday and placed in jail to recover from the effects of too much whiskey. Gordon is an old soldier, and bore papers stating that he had just been released from the Home for Disabled Soldiers, at Hot Springs, South Dakota, where he had been under treatment for pulmonary tuberculosis. He also had in his possession a membership card in the International Brotherhood Welfare Association and Committee for the Unemployed, the card bearing the name of J. L. Cosgrove. While the two names did not agree, another letter was found in his possession addressed to Gordon, and it was decided the card had been borrowed from some associate.

Mayor Romig has established an office in the electric light department of the city hall, where he can be found on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, from 7 till 8 p. m. This is being done in order that people having business with the city will know where to find the mayor without the inconvenience of "looking him up".

Thomas Squibb was here from Moffitt today to make final proof before the local land office.

Martin Young was in from his homestead today to make final proof before the Alliance land office.

F. W. Harris, cashier of the Alliance National Bank, is one of the town's best boosters, and is always in the lead when it comes to public improvements. Mr. Harris is heartily in favor of the new plan for paving, referred to in another article, and has drafted a plat showing how it would look along the four blocks from the depot to the court house. The effect is surely a pleasing one even on paper, and if it were a reality, it would be something that Alliance could point to with pride.

KNOW THYSELF.

It is of dangerous consequence to represent to man how near he is to the level of bees without showing him at the same time his greatness. It is likewise dangerous to let him see his greatness without his meanness. It is more dangerous yet to leave him ignorant of either, but very beneficial that he should be made sensible of both.—Pascal.

Burdette and Riley.

Here is a gentle little story which Strickland Gillilan told. It concerns the late Robert J. Burdette and James Whitcomb Riley and happened during Burdette's last summer on earth.

Somebody said to Riley: "There's one thing about Bob Burdette that particularly impresses me. When he says, 'God bless you,' he means it."

"Yes," replied Riley, "and God does it when Bob asks it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
